

We're Hiring: Skilled Skateboarding Artist

Location: Workington Skatepark

Fee: Artist fee (£1000) 3 x delivery days, 1/2 day planning, 1/2 day post-project debrief

Contract Type: Freelance / fixed-term

Reporting to: Everyone Here team (Production Lead / Artistic Director)

Application deadline: 29th September 2025

Contact email: jenny@everyonehere.org

Purpose of the Role

We are seeking a skilled skateboarding artist to deliver a series of drop-in workshops for the local skateboarding community at skateparks in West Cumbria. These sessions will offer participants the chance to learn skateboarding skills in a relaxed, welcoming and inclusive environment.

The artist will work with whoever attends on the day, sharing their skateboarding skills and encouraging participation. These sessions are a chance to build a connection with the local skateboarding community. We're interested in using this as a starting point for a conversation: to find out if there's demand for regular sessions and explore what the community would like to see happen in the future.

We're looking for an artist who:

- Is a confident and experienced skateboarder, with the ability to teach others
- Can work flexibly with a range of participants, understanding that engagement may vary
- Has strong facilitation and community engagement skills
- Is approachable, friendly, and able to build rapport quickly
- Can collaborate with Everyone Here to think strategically and understand how these sessions could feed into a potential larger project.
- Is able to travel to and from West Cumbrian Skateparks independently

How to Apply

Please submit a detailed CV that outlines relevant experience and a one page cover letter or statement of interest aligned to the brief. If you would rather not send a written application we are happy to accept a video outlining your relevant experience sent via WeTransfer. Please send this to jenny@everyonehere.org by 29th September 2025 by 11.59pm.

This role is designed for a contractor which means you will be responsible for your own tax and insurance. We can support you to access advice from external organisations. Please don't let this be a barrier to applying.

Timeline

- Application deadline: 29th September 2025
- Shortlisting on week commencing 30th September 2025
- Interviews held early October
- Contract begins mid-October 2025

About Everyone Here

Everyone Here is one of 39 Creative People and Places (CPP) projects supported by Arts Council England. The programme allows organisations like us to work with communities so they can choose the creativity and culture on offer in their local area. And it's made possible thanks to National Lottery players, who raise £30 million for Good Causes each week.
